Juliama's Regency Expected

The Hague, Oct. 3.—Queen. Wilhelmina of The Netherlands will shortly "temporarily resign" for health reasons in favour of Princess Juliana, who will act as Regent, an official communique said today.

Princess Juliana, who is 38 years of age and the Queen's only daughter, will take over her duties when a bill invoking Article 43 of the Constitution is passed by a joint session of the two Houses of Parliament. The bill is to be introduced shortly.

The 67-year-old Queen, still weak from her recent attack of bronchitis, wished it to be made known that there was no reason for anxiety about her state of health, the communique said. Recently, however, the pressure of state affairs made a complete rest essential.

Thrilling Baseball At Ebbets Field

New York, Oct. 3.—Brooklyn Dodgers today won a thrilling 3-2 victory over New York Yankees at Ebbets Field in the fourth game of the 1947 World Series, thus making a tie 2-2.

Big Floyd Bevins, lanky Yankee righthander, set a new World Series record when he pitched eight consecutive hitless innings as the Yankees held to one lead over the Dodgers. It seemed almost certain that the Yanks were likely to clinch the game.

However, the nine-inning runs by the Dodgers gave them the final victory in the game,

The Dodgers in winning by a 3-2 score pulled off one of the most amazing triumphs in Series history. After miserably losing the first two games to the Yankees, the Dodgers have now roared back to even it up at two victories apiece.

Bevins, nevertheless, set a new World Series record of pitching the most consecutive hitless innings, wresting the laurels from the 'Yan-'kees' Red Ruffing who went seven innings against the Cardinals in 1942. Bevins also fied the World Series record for walks with nine, tying the mark made by Jack Coombs of World Series game packed with thrills excitement and pathes, this was it. For the Dodgers they

STILLMAN'S Freckle Cream

FOR CLEAR SKIN

Stillman's Freckle Cream contains certain ingredients which act as a temporary,"black-out" against the formation of pigment. Next it favors the retention of fat globules in the skin which helps to smooth out lines and creepiness.

It's easy to use-just smooth on at night before retiring and let it work while you sleep. After using just one regular sized jar you will find your complexion so improved that you will need no urging to continue using Stillman's Freckle Cream.

TI AVE, you ever noticed, that horses in a race never look round to see if they are being followed as their jockeys do? They do not need to turn their heads to see what goes on behind. When a horse holds its head up it has all-round vision and cannot be approached unawares. That is why the first thing a horse does when it is startled is to hold its head high. At least one did it each time the starting gate went up.

If you approach a horse head-on it looks at you with both eyes until you get within three feet of it, then always turns its head away and watches you with one eye.

It is forced to do this because although it would rather watch you with two eyes, it has a blind zone for double-eyed vision just in front of I had fun proving this to my friends in the Goodwood paddock. Stoing a racchorse always reminds me how much bigger its head is in proportion to the body compared with the heads of horses shown in old paintings and prints.

Those big horses with tiny heads. like the one Charles I. is riding in Van Dyck's famous picture, arose in the 17th century. The old war-horses which the armoured knights used to ride were crossed then with much smaller horses imported from Arabia. The hybrids had the Arab head on a warhorse body.

Speed, endurance and courage were what the old Arab breeders wanted in a horse. Some measure of their success was to be seen at Goodwood, for there is Arab horse blood in every English thorough-

WITHIN a few years of its founding in 1887 the Manufacturers Life expanded into foreign fields. The representatives who pioneered this development were truly "Gentlemen Adventurers"-their search for new avenues of business was an advance into the unknown.

From the nation's viewpoint this expansion was an important step in the development of export trade which at that time was confined to natural products. The sale of Life Insurance abroad is an export of services paid for by the premium payments of foreign policyholders.

In many areas of the world Canadian life Insurance companie's faid the foundations for our foreign trade and established Canada's reputation for stability and fair dealing. Even to-day there are places where Canada is known principally for its Life Insurance companies.

The Manufacturers Life is proud of the part it has played in this development,—proud, too, of its world-wide reputation for financial strength and the best of Life Insurance service.

An interesting Second Division encounter is among the more attractive week-end soccer fixtures. It is the match between Sing Tao's second string and Hongkong Signals which is being played at Sookumpoo this afternoon. Rivalling this is the First Division struggle between Kitchee (whose home ground is the Navy's) and the Devons: this game kicks off at 5 p.m. on the Causeway Bay ground today.

FURIOUS PACE

There was a fair sized crowd at Boundary-street last Sunday afternoon to see the RAF's game with Chinese Athletic. Although the match was played under conditions of hot sun and very little wind, a furious pace was maintained right from the word go. There was a full mid-way through the second half (then CAA were leading 3-1) until the Airmen set up a succession of very bad luck with one terrific drive from fifteen yards which crashed against the woodwork with Yu well | besten. CONFIDENT DEVONS

The Devons, after their victories of 9-1 over Kwong Weh and 3-1 over the Navy, will take the fleid for this afternoon's game with Kitchee full of confidence. Hongkong Signals astounded not a few todowers of lical football by entering the semi-finals of the Stanley Shield tournament. Throughout last season they could be relied upon always to put up a good game and ther 7-1 victory last Saturday was no fluke. They meet Sing Tao's second division side at Sookunpoo this afternoon and the game promises to be one of the keenest of the week-end. Sing Tno's youngsters are a nippy band of promising players while the Synais (with their long experience of local football) ure a strong, robust and workmunlike eleven. A draw is the most probable result here.

The Chinese Played Football In 600 BC

(BY RECORDER)

People who spend any time wondering on why the Chinese have adapted themselves so well to football rest unaware of one interesting fact. It took an American historian to provide an answer.

The historian is Mr E. Norman Gardiner, whose book, Athletics of the Ancient World, has an exhaustive chapter on the cumulative evidence on the origin of Mr Gardiner traces its remote past in England to an earliest reference dated 1050 A. D. Going further back into history, Mr Gardiner traces it back to Ancient China in 600 B.C., where, he says, It was at one time a rage over many parts of the country.

The old Chinese game, according to one manuscript, was "too exhausting and undighified for an emperor." Teams were chosen on the field, captains elected by gendetermined raids to try to save the eral acclaim and then began a game. Daynes, centre forward, had system known as the "seventy kicks and the dribbles."

Exactly how the game was play but there was no RAF forward played is unfortunately not preserved in any record though book of rules has been unearthed describing various fouls that could be committed.

John attracted the interest of Dr Twenty miles apart somewhere H Harold Strathearn, an American evangelist, when he could remember the forgetful doctor's room number at the York hotel where he was working.

Dr Strathcarn arranged for him to come to America and have a first-class education. The neighbours in York, delighted at John's stroke of lucis, gave him a watch as a going-away present. Since he arrived here John has spent most of his time at a lakeside camp run by Dr Stratheura in a New York beauty spot. When www him he was sunburned from long days out of doors. He had just come back from riding in a motorboat wonth hundreds of pounds, which he had varied with a little nurf-boarding.

'I miss mother'

But he told me: "I don't like it here. I want to go home. I suppose I shall be sorry for wasting this chaice but Dr Strathcarn should have brought somebody who had no family. I miss my mother too much and want to be with her.

"I had a wonderful time at the camp. I had so much lemonade and so many sweets I was nearly sick. There was plenty of food and I had nothing to do but enjoy myself. But there was always the longing to be home. Nothing they have here is worth that." His passage home has already been booked. And when he sleps down the gangplank John will be bringing nylons for his mother and sister and the walch the neighbours gave him before he left. "I don't know how I shall explain it to them," he said. "But if they want me to, I will give the watch back. I just didn't like it in
